

Ferrous sulfate oral liquid

Your new brand is Ferro-Liquid

Ferro-Liquid is your new brand

If you take Ferodan for iron deficiency, you will be changing to a new brand of oral liquid, Ferro-Liquid.

The packaging will look different and it comes in a smaller bottle.

Why is this happening?

The supplier of Ferodan (Viatris) decided to discontinue this product in New Zealand.

Pharmac asked other suppliers if they could supply ferrous sulphate oral liquid and we reached an agreement with the supplier of Ferro-Liquid (AFT).

The same active ingredient in the same amount

Ferro-Liquid has the same active ingredient as Ferodan, and should work in your body the same way.

Ferro-Liquid has been reviewed by Medsafe. Medsafe has found it meets New Zealand standards of safety, quality, and effectiveness.
