

Insulin changes

You will need a new prescription

Changing insulin

Your current insulin brand will stop being supplied in New Zealand.

Other funded options available

There are still many funded options of insulin available.

The person who prescribes your insulin will be able to guide you on the best alternative for you.

We're sorry

We know that changing medicines can be disruptive.

The suppliers of your insulin have made this decision, not Pharmac.

When do you need to change?

Stock of your insulin will be running out soon.

Talk to the person who prescribes your insulin at your earliest convenience.
